MONDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 5.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION

VOL. 29.....NO. 9,939

red at the Post-Office at New York as second-class mail matter.

The Circulation of the SUNDAY WORLD during the month of October, 1888, was as follows :

Sunday, Oct. 7, 255,040 Copies Sunday, Oct. 14, 257,860 Copies. Sunday, Oct. 21, 258,990 Copies. Sunday, Oct. 28, 260,030 Copies.

CIRCULATION BOOKS ALWAYS OPEN.

A DANGEROUS SCHEME.

Revelations made in THE EVENING WORLD to-day indicate that an insidious and gigantic scheme is on foot to undermine the effect of the Democratic vote for Electors.

A vast number of stickers have been dis tributed by the Republican schemers with the cunning object of electing one or more Republican Electors on the Democratic ticket in each doubtful State. In this State a elever and concerted attack is made on the name of GRORGE BECRTEL, one of the Democratic Electors. The voters in this vicinity are requested to paste over this names the words, "READ BENEDICT." This is not a typographical correction, as might appear to a careless voter, but a regular Republican Elector. Other names are used

A voter who wants to know what he votes to-morrow will need a very sharp pair of

THE CLOSE OF THE BATTLE.

To-morrow evening will end the agony of the politicians. Mr. Harrison will feel bad if the people decide to continue four years more Mr. CLEVELAND's wise and honest rule. Mr. CLEVELAND will feel bad if the people set him saide after a single term and restore the party of the Star route frauds to power. Mr. WARNER MILLER will be disappointed if Gov. HILL's sympathy with the people induce them to keep the latter in office three years longer. Gov. Hill will not be well pleased if WARNER MILLER should defeat him. GRANT will be disagreeably astonished if his apparent certainty election by a large plurality should prove fallacious. ERHARDT will feel badly if he is left far behind Hannmon's city vote. Annam S. HEWITT will scarcely feel surprised, but will certainly feel chagrined if he falls to beat Coodan, and Coodan will grieve if he does not receive a fair labor sup-

But everybody cannot win, and it is to be hoped that the sorrows of the defeated will be temporary only. When the fight is over all will be good friends again, and whatever the result the country will be safe. So vote fairly and early to-morrow, and let there be no cheating at the polls.

WELCOME HOME, MARY.

Let the election go to-anybody who gets a majority. What do the people care now that -classic, frigid, beautiful Many-our Many? Safe from the attractions of titles; unwon by learned judges and unlearned dudes: heartfree and ready to be captured by a true American, our statuesque artiste dramatique returns to the country of her birth to tell us that after all the Republic of the Western World is good enough for her. It is all very well to endure the praise of the Prince of Wales; to bask in the sunshine of Royalty and to light the pipe of a broken-down rhyme-maker whose fame is eclipsed by a title; but Many likes her American home and comes back to greet us as warmly as we are ready to welcome her.

Many tells us she is glad to be back again after three years' absunce, although she speaks with satisfaction of her sojourn abroad. She is to make her new appearance on Monday next in "A Winter's Tale" at Palmer's. That is decidedly the best tale the people of New York have heard this

OUR AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION.

WORLDLINGS.

Mrs. Frank A. Degroat, of Millbury, Mass. , gave birth to four girl babies the other afternoon. The smallest child weighs three pounds, and the others nearly six pounds each. They are all bright and

A brother of Miller, the eminent French artist, lives in Boston and earns a modest living as a soupptor. He is a man of cheerful life and politic manners, and bears a striking resemblance to his

John A. Snider, of Siverlyville, Pa., has a silve watch that has been in use for more 110 years and still keeps excellent time. Mr. Suider's grand-father took it from the body of a Hessian soldier exploring tour in the wild region around the head waterful 500 feet in width, with a sneer descent of 150 feet, underneath which are immense caverns, studded with stalactites and natural formations of

S. M. Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, is a brother of the celebrated John Wasamaker, and is himself a marchant prince. He is forty years old, but looks like a man of thirty, and is an ethlete. He becan life on the lowest round of the tadder in the clothing purinces, and the success he has won is solid.

THE WORLD. $1,000,000.

What Would You Do with Your Money and Yourself

IF YOU WERE A MILLIONAIRE?

There Seems to Be as Much Interest This Question as in Politics.

Is Busy Making a Million I am too busy making a million to indulge in dreams as to what I will do with it when I've got it all housed. I'll let you know, however, as soon as I get it all in. WORKER.

Thinks It a Foolish Question.

If I were a millionaire I would spend so much for advertisements as to fill out the space in THE EVENING WORLD which these foolish questions take now.

MAURICE L. KAHN.

Thinks It a Safe Bet.

To the Editor of The Evening World: If I were the owner of $1,000,000 I would bet the same for any evening paper as bright as THE EVENING WORLD. And the money I won I would go and take a trip around the world.

HENRY ADAMS, jr.

A Great Scheme.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

If I had $1,000,000 I would charter a special train and take THE EVENING WORLD COTrespondents and all my friends to go and see Grover Cleveland inaugurated next March. H. O. C., Harlem.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

If I were a millionaire I would give half to my girl. With the other half I would buy a farm, build a house on it and call myself a cowboy. I would raise a hundred cattle every year.

EMIL HAUSEE.

A Hall Boy's Idea.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

If I possessed a million I would live in a hotel and I would give a hall boy 15 or 25 cents every time he brought up a pitcher of ice water. I would also have a valet to attend to me, and I would always pay up my tailor's bills.

Would Drive Out "An Englishman." To the Editor of The Evening World: If I were a millionaire, I would spend half, res, three-quarters of it, in driving such a miserable ingrate as "An Englishman" (in this evening's issue) from this country. Nov. 2. "An American."

An Advocate of Cremation.

I would expend $100,000 in a handsome rematory and cremate without charge the remains of the poor; publish literature on the subject and distribute the same by the million copies so as to educate the people to that method. Progress, 39 Second street.

the Editor of The Evening World:

I am a poor little shop kid. Six days a week I must work very hard. The seventh day I occupy by taking my girl out to Harlem. If I were a millionaire I would increase the comforts of my beautiful one, get mar-ried, live out in the country and play dude on a farm.

LABBY RAPPERTY.

Would Utilize the Tides.

To the Editor of The Evenine World . Que l'on mette un million de dollars à ma disposition et je me fais fort de faire marcher tous les cars et les chemins de fer élevés de New York, en utilisant l'énorme force motrice qu'on peut retirer en utilisant le flux et le reflux de la mer. RIBEROLLES, 141 East Twenty-eighth street.

"The Master's Bidding."

To the Editor of The Evening World:

If I had a million dollars I should do my Master's bidding-feed the hungry, clothe the naked, and succor the dying-believing that its possession should entail a moral obli-gation payable to humanity and to God, so that when my hour of death should come I might die in the comforting assurance of having tried to do his will. M. D. Oct. 81.

Another Would-Be Philanthropist,

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I would purchase coal, flour and other prime necessaries of life to sell at cost price and help the needy, thus preventing some millionaires from increasing their millions by speculating with the sufferings of the poor, especially in Winter and in other epochs of calamity.

203 Bleecker street.

A Crank Exterminator.

To the Editor of The Evening World: If I had $1,000,000 at my command I would have a large cage made such as are used to send the dogs to the next world, and once having such a cage I would fill it with such cranks as Mayor Hewitt and Lord Sackville, and once having it filled I would have it towed out to the Atlantic Ocean and sunk to the bottom.

A Good Democrat.

Another "Nonconsical" Letter.

To the Editor of The Bosning World:

If I had that amount of money, I would give THE EVENING WORLD $50 to shut up its nonsense. I don't see how people answer such insane questions as THE EVENING WORLD puts to them. I hope you will pub-lish this as you do other nonsensical answers, JOHN O'HARA. Metropolitan Hotel, Broadway.

Free Pharmacies and Free Doctors.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

If a million of dollars or a decent approxi mation thereto ever came to me I would start a number of pharmacies where medicines and all other things used to help sick humanity would be sold at cost. There would be in each establishment physicians for consultation free of charge.

ANTI-SELFIER.

A Sensible Young Lady.

To the Editor of The Evenine World:

I should think your letters from people who would like to have an Aladdin's lamp in their houses would afford you a great deal of amusement and knowledge of human nature. I am a young lady, and I think if I had so great an amount of money I would be obliged to find some gentleman to take charge of it for me. I know I would contribute at least $10,000 toward Mr. Cleveland's election, and I would not marry an English nobleman if I could get one.

A. D. G.

A Batch of Good Schemes.
To the Editor of The Seeing World:
If I were a millionaire, after using $50,000 in the financial and educational interests of my family and poor relatives, I would undertake: Pirst—A scheme for furnishing (to the poor and middle classes especially) fuel at cost. Hecond—To supply cooked food at cost, both in restaurants (to be run at cost) and at the homes of families. Third—Transportation of passengers on street cars at cost. If I were a ten-millionaire, I would undertake to perf et a system of suburban passenger and freight traffic (rapid transit) at cost. If I were a hundred-millionaire, I should buy a through railroad track to Chicago and carry passengers and freight at actual cost.

32 and 34 Vesey street.

Would Be " Good to Myself."

I would pocket every cent and be good to myself for the rest of my days. I would donate no churches nor be charitable in any other respect. My "motto" would be: "Do onto others what others have done unto you." I might, 'tis true, share with the houest-hearted fellow who, when all the world were good to themselves, gave me his heart and hand and share of his thousands.

Mrs. Hardheart.

Would Hunt for Capt. Kidd's Treasures. To the Editor of the Evening World.

I would buy a bandsome steam yacht and with several of my best friends I would take trip around the world, and when I return home I would buy a handsome mansion on the Hudson River and own a fine stable of racers.
Then I would try and find some man that has some knowledge about Capt. Kidd's treasures, and with him and about fifty of a crew I would search the world for them, for I think they can be found. I hope you will remember me when you are giving out the $1,000,000.

There's Real Human Nature in This. to the Editor of The Ecentic World:

Touching the millionaire letters, I am brought to remember the old quaint German fairy tale of the little boy who did a good turn to a goblin the ever delightful Black Forest, for which he was to have his first wish

Of course he wished for money-a round million-only it was to be in bright silver sixpences.

Well, he got it.

At first, like all of your contributors, he meant to do many benevolent feats with it. His primal idea: He intended to give just half of it—it filled a wheelbarrow—to his father, sisters and brothers. But just half of it—it filled a wheelbarrow—to his mother, father, sisters and brothers. But lust of gold or silver grows on what it feeds on. The little boy began to reflect that his relatives would not deal so liberally by him n a similar case. Then he thought on how soon his barrow would be empty were he to carry out his original intentions; and, frightened lest they would take it from him by force, he arose at daybreak and wheeled it away through the dense forest over the fallen leaves.

leaves.

Now, he noticed peasants and people in general looking at him suspiciously. This would never do. He was cold, but he cast his jacket over the shining sixpences and travelled until night without daring to ask for food. Already very miserable from growing avarice, hunger and cold, he stopped at an inn, but refused to part with his barrow long enough to eat or sleep, which aroused the suspicions of the imkeeper, who directed him to leave his apples in the outhouse or stable. So uneasy did he become that he arcse at early dawn, and tired, footsore and emaciated as he was, he began to wheel it away, determined now that no one living should partake of his good fortune.

The barrow became heavy and unmanageable. He cursed his ill-luck in having got his wish, and in crossing a stream the load overturned, the sixpences slipped into the water, and, wiping the sweat from his brow, he said:

" I'm glad of it. Now nobody has it, and I can return to my mother and eat an apple dumpling!"

So you see wishes do not always give content, and it is easier to say what we would do with a million than to do it. But I, for one, would like the chance. I dare say I should be as mean as other millionaires.

JEANETTE, 19 West Ninth street.

Obliging Clerk-Shall I send the package? Mr. Hunkley—No. I'il take it if you'll jest shove under my arm. I'm gettin' so careless like, that other she had to give my gloves on f'r fear l'd are 'm somewhar.

A Theatrical Literary Curiosity R. M. De Leeuw, publisher of the Dot Library, naugurates the series with "The Theatre-Goo Dream." In this little volume, with its attractive typography and tasty binding, the titles of 1,000 plays are comtined into a continous story. The treatrical man who tried to locate all the titles would speedily be driven to the insane asylam; but to the curious reader the book will be found full of interest.

A Distinguished Official in Danger. Coroner Messemer, riding with Jacques Meyer n Central Park yesterday, had a narrow escape from serious injury, or something worse. The team behind which the men were riding took fright and ran from a point near the obelisk to One Hundred and Tenth street, where a mounted policeman stopped them, Collision on the way was almost miraculously avoided.

Gleaned in the Labor Field. To-morrow night is the regular time for the meeting of the Miscollaneous Section, but it is donotful whether a quorum will be present, owing to the election excitement.

A member of the Musical Murual Protective Union denies the report that "dummies" were placed in bands supplied by leaders of the union for political parades. The Baife Club allows members only to play in bands.

bers only to play in bands.

It is expected that many of the workshops and stores will be closed to-morrow, in order that the employees may get in their votes. A Frankfort street firm has ordered its works in Brooklyn closed for the day.

Both tactions of District Assembly 49 will send delegates to the General Assembly which meets at Indianapolis Nov. 11. The Auti-Quinn party propose to hire a hall in that city and form a new order of those opposed to the present rigime of the Knights.

What's His Record

What's His Record

Is the first question asked regarding any man who is proposed for the suffrages of the people, and What is its record? Is a very proper question to sak concerning any article for which the patronage of the people is solicited.

Nothing pleases us better then to eall attention to the record of Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it has overcome mountainous difficulties, has defeated powerful computation, has achieved victory where all predicted defeat. It has accomplished these things because it is clean in its methods of preparation, pure in every article used, honest in giving every purchaser his money's worth and successful in performing everything elaimed for it.

It has a record of remarkable curse never equalled by any other preparation. In the severest cases of servicing the best successful after other articles had failed to do any good whatever. A book containing many reliable statements and full information will be sent on receipt of your address.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Seld by all druggists. $1; etz for $5. Prepared entyte U. L. HOOD & CO., Apothecuries, Lovell, Mass. 100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR

SUSPICIOUS DEATH IN ORANGE. nical Poisoning Supposed to Have Killed Mrs. James Sexton. There is much excitement in Orange over the supposition that Mrs. James Sexton, who died after a sudden illness on Thursday, was died after a sudden illness on Thursday, was the victim of arsenical poisoning, and the burial of the body has been delayed on account of the refusal of the attending physician to grant a permit until the death has been properly investigated.

Mrs. Sexton was sixty-one years old. Her husband is sixty-four and disfigured by paralysis. There had been trouble between the old couple, and the husband's life is said to have been made a burden to him by his wife's conduct towards him. She was in the midst of preparations to give up the boarding-house which they kept at 48 Jefferson and to sell the furniture, when death interrupted her.

MURDERED THE HARRISON MAN.

Frank Day Stabbed to the Heart by Orunken Rough in Chicago.

INPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. Canadian, was stabled and died near the Post-Office shortly after midnight. He and two companions were going home and while two companions were going home and while on their way to the Polk street depot met an-other party. Both parties were drunk. Day and his friends were shouting for Harrison, the others for Cleveland. A fight took place and Day was stabbed to the heart. His mur-derer escaped. William H. Warder, an engi-neer in the Government building, was ar-rested as an accessory, but declares he does not know Day's assailant.

BLAINE GOES TO MAINE.

He Leaves Quietly with His Wife, His Son and Congressman Boutelle.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Blaine, accompanied by their son Walker and Congressman Boutelle, of Maine, left for Augusta on the 11 o'clock train this morning.

Their departure was made quietly through the Twenty-third street entrance of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where a carriace was in waiting to convey the party to the depot.

The Plumed Knight has made his last speech of the campaign, and returns to his native town to cast his vote and await the result of the election.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

Girl Locked in a School-Room for Twentyfour Hours. Six-year-old Maggie Matheson was yester day morning found asleep in the Industrial School at 139 Van Brunt street, where she had been accidentally locked in since Saturhad been secretary day noon.

Her parents, who had become almost frantic with grief, had caused a general alarm to be sent out by the police.

Brooklyn News in Brief. Lizzie Claupert, of 374 Hicks street, received compound fracture of the right log while skylark ing with her sister last night. Join McNight, of 2126 Walworth street, Phila-delphia, fell down the stairs at the bridge en-trance on Sands street and was seriously injured about the head.

about the head.

L. Gaffney's liquor saloon on Bridge street was robbed of $50 worth of property last night. John Finn's saloon, at 228 Hudson avenue, was also visited and $26 worth of property taken. The apartments of Patrick Finley, at 109 Cariton avenue, were burglarized of $38 worth of clothing.

The case of alleged colonization for which Morita Hertmberg and six other men are now under bonds, was called to the attention of the rand Jury by Judge Moore this morning.

JERSEY CITY NEWS.

An Attempt to Restore Power to Chief Murphy.

An attempt to restore Chief Murphy and his captains to power is on to-day in the shape of an application for a writ of certiorari to set an application for a writ of certiorari to set aside the resolution of the Police Board adopted Saturday morning.

Ex-Congressman Charles H. Voorhis applies for the writ, as counsel for Robert A. Simpson, a prominent citizen of the Heights. Papers were served on President Davis and his fellow-Commissioners this morning requiring them to appear before Judge Knapp at the Chancellor's Chambers downtown.

The applicant bases his plea on the ground that the resolution, which sets forth that Chief Murphy and the captains shall "make no details for any purpose whatever," seriously interferes with the discipline of the department and practically demoralizes it. department and practically demoralizes it.

President Davis declined to talk about the Chief Murphy.

The Chief wisnes it distinctly understood, however, that he received lists of illegally registered persons from the Democratic State Committee, as well as from the Republice.

Jersey City Jottings.

Eugene Dowling, of 191 Bay street, was arrested by Detective McNally this morning for an old burgiary. The work of making out tax bilis was com-menced at the City Hall this morning. The new rate is $3.98 on the $190.

It has been ascertained that the unknown man found dead at the corner of Newark and River streets, Hoboken, yesterday, fell from the elevated railroad structure. railroad structure.

A naked man stood on a great rock in the old quarry at the foot of the Montgomery street hill this morning shouting Scriptural phasages at passeers-by. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he gave his name as Charles McNaughton.

Possible Wife-Murder in Breeklyn Little hopes are entertained for the recovery of Mrs. Mary Lynch, who was brutally assaulted with a hammer by her husband, David, at their home, 93 North Sixth street, Saturday evening.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity, of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla above all others, we used it with mar-velous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned." — J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas. "I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time."— E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas. "We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio. Shannopin Shaken Up by an Explosion.

Recommended

[apecial to the evening world.]
Perfectled, Nov. 5.—At an early hour this more-"Ayer's medicines continue to be the standard remedies in spite of all competition."—T. W. Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, PREPARED BY

THE POSTAL-CARD VOTE.

CLOSING PIGURES OF THIS PRE-ELECTION POLT.

The Prohibitionists Clab Together and Take a Little Boom-Cleveland, Hill and Grant, However, Still in the Lend-The Outlook Very Favorable to the Tamman

Following is the total poll in the Posta Card Vote. It is not as large as it might be probably because the politicians are saving heir pennies for use at the polls. It appears, however, that the Tammany ticket still has a good lead, and, if it maintains this proportion to-morrow it will go through with a whoop. Herewith is printed a note of explanation from a Prohibitionist. Allowing the votes thus accounted for, although they had a very suspicious look at first, the third party makes a very fair showing: A Prohibitionist Evaluies

In THE EVENING WORLD of last Friday you charge that a Prohibitionist has been guilty of repeating in your " Postal-Card Vote," on the ground that the handwriting on many of the cards voting for Prohibition candidates is the same. While the charge is a de-cidedly unplea ant one and throws disgrace upon members of the party, it is very easily cidedly unplea-ant one and throws disgrace upon members of the party, it is very easily explained away.

On Wednesday evening the Prohibitionists held a large raily at Cooper Union and a parade before the meeting. Several gentlemen, the undersigned among them, procured postal - cards and copies of The Evening World, and went among the Prohibitionists, getting them to vote in The Evening World's canvass. As it was inconvenient for the writers to do much writing under the circumstances, many of them requested that the cards be filled out for them with the names of the Prohibition candidates, and they would add their signatures. This was done, and accounts for the similarity of handwriting on the cards. As for the signatures, I assure you that they were all genuine. Trusting that you will give this explanation as much prominence as you gave the charge of fraud, and that you will give us credit for the votes cast, we re-Eugene Thwing, 124 East Tenth street.

Geo. B. Smith, 10 Astor place.

The total of the Postal-Card Vote stands as follows:

THE POSTAL CARD VOTE. FOR PRESIDENT. Cleveland 850 Harrison 151 Fisk 88 Lockwood 88

FOR GOVERNOR. W. Martin Jones FOR MAYOR.

THE REAL ELECTORS. Names of Candidates on the Presidential Ballots of the Various Parties. DEMOCRATIC RESCTORS.

Chiton D. MacDo Albert M. Patterso Everett Brown, Henry Hebing, Augustus Frank, Philip Becker, Philip Becker, Benjamin Flagter, Asher W. Miner.

Oswald Ottendorfer, George Beentel, William M. Brasher, William M. Brasher, Marvin Cross,
Charles H. Hall,
John M. Bowers,
John M. Bowers,
John Cschrane,
Moses Mehrbach,
Joan P. Schuchman,
William Eteinway,
Jordan L. Mott,
Eugene Kelly,
Edward P. Steers,
Frederick Sconnard,
John G. Wilkin,
Charles L. Austin,
William Youmans,

Wilson S. Bissell,
David C. Briggs,
Anthony Bleecker Banks,
Simon J. Schermerhorn,
Artemas B. Waldo,
Duncan G. Wood,
Gordias H. F. Gould,
William Birdsall,
Thomas Ryan,
John G. Sears,
Andrew Meade,
Charles H. Everta,
Edwin S. Underhil,
Henry Bartholomay,
Hariin Eugene English,
Daniel O'Day,
Jesse Peterson, Jesse Peterson, Charles Henry Lee. BLICAN.

James S. T. Stranahan,
James A. Burden,
Edward A. Durant, jr.,
Edward Ellia,
Frank S. Witherbee,
William L. Proctor,
John S. Koster,
Edward A. Brown,
George N. Crouse,
William E. Johnson,
Chinton D. MacDougall,
Albert M. Pattarano. William H. Seward, William H. Sewara,
Read Benedici,
Gusiave A. Jahn,
Nelson J. Gates,
James W. Birkett,
Chester D. Burrows, jr.,
Andrew R. Rogers, jr.,
Lispenard Stewart,
William H. Townley,
Edwin A. McAlpin,
Hrsyton Ivea,
Robert A. Greacen,
William Brookfield,
David F. Porter,
John Thomas Stearns,
William P. Richardson,
Jonn F. Winslow,
Thomas Cornell,

PROBIBITION. Julius E. Pheips, Pailo W. Scoffeld, William H. King, James Morton, orace Waters,

Andrew J. Applebee,
James W. Byer,
William R. Sution,
W. Jennings Demore
Justus Miller,
Andrew J. Church,
James H. Bronson,
Adam Armatrong, It.
William Whitney,
Horatio S. Hendee,
George W. Catrander,
Caleb B. Hitchcock,
Joseph W. Bruce,
William D. Osborne,
Charles D. Clawson,
William T. Wardwell,
Alphonso A. Hopkins
Robert McCargo,
LABOR. UNITED LABOR. James Redpath,
John H. Schilling,
Joseph M. Pray,
Sylvester L. Maione,
Thomas M. Russell,
George Smith,
James Hurley,
Michael Foley,
Jeremiah Coughlin,
Laaac Pennamacoor.

D LABOR.

Thômas Leary,
Victor A. Wilder,
Bernard McClann,
Peter V. W. Mesick,
Robert W. Morgan,
Thomas Faseeti,
Allen J. Bigelow,
James Kenefick,
George E. Bedeil,
Joseph H. Steinmert
Joseph A. Dodge,
Martin V. Morgan,
John H. Masterson,
William J. Duffey,
John J. O'Byrne,
Frederick J. Millene
Charles M. Kinaky,
George F. Kittredge
OVERNOR. Reac rennamacoor, Edward AcConnell, William A. Hotokkiss, John J. Doyle, Richard J. Stanton, Renben P. Sylvester, Cha les E. Rich, W.lliam J. Sweeny, Howard J. Kelder,

FOR GOVERNOR. David B. Hill, Democrat. Warner Miller, Republican and United Labor. W. Martin Jones, Prehibitionist. Edward J. Hall, Socialist. POR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

Reward F. Jones, Democrat. Stephen V. R. Cruger. Republican. George T. Powell. Prohibitionist. John H. Blakeney, United Labor. Christian Pattberg, Socialist. FOR JUDGE OF THE COURT OF APPEALS. John Cliston Gray, Democrat. William Rumsey, Republican. Charles W. Slevana, Prohibition. Lawrence J. McParlin, United Labor. Frank Geron, Socialist.

Stolen Jersey Razors Brought Here Samuel Fleidman was held in $2,000 ball for trial to-day by Justice Duffy in the Essex Market Court for bringing property into this county which was alleged to have been stolen from the barber-shop of Joseph Blainey, in Beliville, N.J. The prop-erty consisted principally of razors and brushes, and was valued by the complainant at 532.50.

ing a terrible explosion of a nitro-glycerine maga-niae took place near Shannopin, thirseen miles from here. Surrounding property was much dam-aged. It is not yet learned if any lives were lost. Accuses His Room-Mate.

In the Tombs Police Court this morning Geo.

Stock, a baker, hving at 110 East Third street, charged Geo. Lehr, his room-mate, with the larceny of a silver watch worth $5 and $7 in cash.
Lehr decided the charge, but Judge White held him to assure.

MY MIRACULOUS CURE.

Messrs. Wm. B. Riker & Son---Gentlemen: I have had a most severe cough for many I have had a most severe cough for many months. I coughed incessantly. After trying everything I knew of in vain, I concluded that no MEDICINE would ever cure me. Hearing, however, of the wonderful cures made by your "Riker's Expectorant," I decided to give it a trial. The result was marvellous! Within ONE DAY the cough was recently lessoned and a few days thereafter I greatly lessened, and a few days thereafter I was ENTIRELY CURED. Any person is welcome to call on me and hear from me the story of my miraculous cure.

ANNIE THORP, 767 6th Ave.

TAKE YOUR GOODS ON TIME PAYMENTS, IT IS ALL THE SAME TO US, AND IT IS ALL THE BAME TO YOU SO FAR AS THE PRICK IS CON-CERNED. "ONE LOW PRICE TO ALL ALIKE" IS OUR IRONCLAD BULE.

CLOTHING,

HATS AND SHOES. OR MEN, YOUTHS, BOYS AND CHILDREN. Elegant Silk, Satin and Wool Lined FALL AND WINTER

OVERCOATS. LADIES' AND MISSES' Seal Plush

Sacques, Jackets, Wraps,

Garment at Six Times the Price!

WATCHES, CHAINS, JEWELRY, &c.

Newmarkets and Modieskas. All our Seal Plush Garments are made from the celebrated "Lister" English Seal Plush with Alaska Seal Ornaments, and are equal in appearance and wear to any Alaska Scal

CLOAKS & SUITS. SILES, SATINS, VELVETS, PLUSHES, DRESS AND MOURNING GOODS, UNDERWEAR, COR-SETS, LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S VINE SHORS,

WEEKLY OR MONTHLY PAYMENTS

126 Bowery, CORNER GRAND ST .- ENTIRE BUILDING.

PARLOR FURNITURE.

COWPERTHWAIT'S, 153, 155, 157, 159, 161, 163, 165 Chatham st.4 193, 195, 197, 199, 201, 203, 205 Park Row,

Between City Hall and Chatham square. ALL SWEAR FEALTY. Ironclad Instructions Against Trading by Democratic Candidates.

The Republicans have all along counted upon the Democratic local fight resulting in a generous and personal slaughter of Cleveand and Hill in this city, but they have rockoned without their host.

rockoned without their host.

Neither of the Democratic organizations of this city desires to be posted as traitorous, and Tammany Hall's adherents have all along been advised at meetings and by circular that fealty to the National and State tickets is above all essential.

The whole matter has been clinched by an ironclad agreement between the Chairmen of the Democratic National and State Executive committees, Messrs, Brice and Murtha, and Fire Commissioner Croker for Tammany and Boas Power for the County Democracy.

Any candidate who is discovered to be not "pulling straight," and engaged in trading the State or National ticket to forward his own election, will find himself boycotted. His ticket will be removed from the organization boxes and he will have to go it alone.

Any member of either Tammany Hall or the County Democracy who is caught trading will be expelled from his organization, and if either Tammany or the Counties fail in earrying out the provisions of this compact, the organization at fault will be bulletined throughout the city.

throughout the city. DIED OF A STAB WOUND.

John McCarthy the Victim of a Political Quarrel.

John McCarthy, the plumber, who was stabbed in the abdomen by an unknown man during a political row at the corner of First avenue and Seventeenth street, Satur-day night, died at Bellevue Hospital early this morning. He lived at 397 First avenue. The police believe that Michael Pender-gast, alias Lender, an ex-convict, did the stabbing.

A Meteor Falis Near Pittsburg. PHYSCIAID THE EVENING WORLD. I
PHYSEURG, Nov. 5.—An immense meteor fol near here at about 10 o'clock this morning. The earth in the vicinity was terribly shaken as if by an earthquake and much damage was done to properly. The shock was felt for several miles property.

Thomas Morian, ot 285 Mulberry street, was held at the Tombs to-day on a charge of maynem, which in this case was that he bit off the nose of a neighbor. His three motheriess children were sent to the Catholic protectory.

Bit Off Another Man's Nose

A Sign of Election Inactivity. Mrs. Sophia Fisher was the only saloon-keepe neld for trial in the K-sex Market Court to-day for rigination of the excise law. She keeps a saloun at 16 East Third street.

BUY A LOT FOR A HOME. where you can live HAPPILY. PEACEFULLY AND COM-TENTEDLY. free from the demands of GRASPING LANDLORDS and the misery and discomforts of FILTHY TENEMENTS.

AN AMPLE COLLATION WILL AWARD YOU. Remember, I issue free daily tickets and that I am selling lots for $100 and upwards payable $5 and $10 menthly.

For maps and free passes apply to JERE:
JOHNSON, Jr., 60 Liberty st., New York;
393 Fulton st., Brocklyn.

REAL ESTATE.

For Sale Country. On Election Day Visit

ISLAND. Lots and Houses for sale on easiest of terms.

BUGHES & ROSS, 47 BROADWAY. ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP Should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, curse wind culic, and is the best remedy for diarrhosa. Twents-five cents a botts.

Ourse in To b DATA, Of the Corte Big & as the only of this disease, of this disease, G. H. INGRAHAM, M. D. Amsterdam, N. T. 'dealy by the many years, and it has given the best of satta-faction.

Ohio.

Nart S1.06. Sold by Druggista. Mrd only by the

WOHLFARTHA TONIC APPETIZER

Cures DYSPRPSIA and MALARIA.
To cents a pint bottle.
and for circular to J. WOHLFARTH, 36 Geld st., W.Y. PEERLESS DYES ATO the HEST.

RAILROADS. CKNTRAL RAILROAD OF NEW JERSEY.
FOOT LIBERTY ST. NORTH RIVER.
TIME TABLE, OCT 9, 1888
For Raston, 4, 5, 45, 7, 5, 50 A. M.; 1, 2 45, 4, 30, 5, 460
P. M. Sunday, 5 A. M., 5, 33 P. M.
Por Bethlebens, Allentown, &c., 4, 5, 45, 7, 8, 30 A. M., 4
1, 5, 45, 4, 50, 5, 45 P. M.
For Mauch Chunk 4, 00, 7, 00, 8, 30 A. M.; 1, 00, 3, 45, 5, 45 P. M.
For Wilkesbarrs, Pittston and Scranton, 8, 30 A. M.; 5

SPORTING.

NION JOUKEY CLUB, WAVERLY, N. J. Hace days Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, Haces commonce 2 P. M. sharp.
Trains leave Cortinate and Destrosses sta., via Penn J.
R.R., 12, 17, 30 and 1 P. M.

CLAIRVOY ANT.

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers

MRS. S. H. BENNETT, astrologist; most reliable our are offering imitations which they claim to be Pearline, or "the same as Pearline."

It's false—they are not, and besides are dangerous. PEARLINE is never peddled, but sold by all good grocers.

Manufactured only by JAMES PYLE, New York.

Beware

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; siz bottles, $6. Worth $5 a bettle,